Emphasizing the approaching deadline of Millennium Development Goals (MDG) 3 and 6: Promoting Gender Equality, and Combating HIV/AIDS, Malaria, and other diseases, respectively and the statements of Article 25 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) regarding the right of all people to complete health and Article 26 establishing the universal right to education, recalling significant resolutions addressing the collective goals of Member States regarding empowerment and education of women regarding HIV/AIDS, such as A/RES/S-26/2 and A/RES/60/262, as well as A/60/736, the 2006 report of the Secretary General, The United Nations Population Fund,

1. Draws attention to the importance of promoting gender equality to combat and prevent the spread of HIV/AIDS by encouraging women’s rights and equal education in order to emphasize women empowerment; (Operative Clauses are meant to highlight what you want to do to expand on initiatives listed above. Operative clauses are also italicized, but end in semicolons.)

2. Recommends this expansion, along with the original goals of the Y-PEER Network, include the following four guidelines:
   a. An emphasis on the expansion of this program to encompass rural areas of developing countries which currently lack access to any such means of assistance in dealing with the prevention of the HIV/AIDS pandemic among women;
   b. National networks and the standardization of training materials for women as established in the existing guidelines of the Y-PEER program;
   c. Operation on a Member State to Member State basis, with the approval and assistance of local governments, so as to effectively overcome cultural barriers while appreciating the impact of local customs;
   d. Implementation of community based recreational activities such as athletics, art therapy, and theatrical programs to provide women a platform to express their experiences in a culturally sensitive way; and

3. Endorses the use of local media formats to disseminate information regarding the HIV/AIDS epidemic, targeting the female demographic, such as print media, social media, online forums, visual media and auditory media, based on the existing infrastructure of the Member State that will most effectively reach the female audience. (End the resolution with a period)